In the Classroom

All classrooms have established rituals and routines for a productive school year. The students are eager to expand their knowledge and thought process.

The students have thoughtfully planned and created a narrative writing piece about the fall.

Math - We have started Chapter 1 in our Go Math books. Please read the Parent Letter that is sent home at the beginning of every chapter. It will help you understand the concepts of the work ahead. This chapter looks to expand our knowledge in place value, multiplication, and expressions.
